AND START THE JOURNEY TO NEW CHALLENGES...

Belongs to Central Europe - both by its natural borders and in spirit. It covers the south-eastern and lowest parts of the vast Pannonian Basin, and northern parts of the Republic of Serbia, spreading on 21,506 km², with population slightly exceeding 2 million people. Novi Sad is the capital of the Province. Geographically, it is split into three regions - Srem, Banat and Bačka. This area is mainly lowland and flat, where cascading and mildly wavy relief interchanges with flat plateaus. The waters of Vojvodina represent "A Tamed Shrew", and today, it has got regulated rivers, and one of the densest canal networks in Europe. The most important place belongs to the Danube, "the major European thoroughfare". Natural heritage is characterized by the pronounced ecosystems. In this area are located exceptional natural and regional units, unique in this part of Europe such as Deliblatska peščara / Deliblato Sands / (largest in Europe), Fruška gora and Vršačke planine / Vršac Mountains /, large flatland rivers (the Danube, Sava, Tisa, Begej, Tamiš) and their vast flood areas. From a demographic point of view, Vojvodina represents a conglomerate of various nations and ethnic groups, and cultures. The mosaic of local cultural heritage is something only Vojvodina can contribute to the tourist market.

The largest area under the linden trees in Europe captivates visitors senses every June. Supporters of eco and geotourism gladly return to Fruška gora. Climbing down the northern foothills leads to the banks of the Danube, and other rivers of Vojvodina. Natural processes of erosion still patiently form marshlands and flooding plains. The most important ones have been placed under protection as Ramsar Sites. Suggestions for your new discoveries are the Special Nature Preserves: Koviljsko-petrovaradinski rit, Gornje Podunavlje, Stari Begej-Carska bara, Deliblatska peščara and Obedska bara. The Stari Begej-Carska bara preserve has a long tradition of ecotourism, and Deliblatska peščara preserve with vast areas under sands, nicknamed the "European Sahara". Spreading in the southerly direction, the sandy ecosystems gently turns into the wetlands of Labudovo okno. Obedska bara – "Ornithological Eldorado", situated at the south of Srem, was put under protection immediately after Yellowstone National Park, in 1874. Travelling through northern Bačka provides easy access to the highest concentration of the protected areas located in one place. Constituent parts consist of two preserves (Ludaško jezero and Selevenjske pustare), nature park (Palić) and special nature preserve (Subotička peščara). QUIET WATERS OF PANNONIA

RIVERS OF Vojvodina PROVIDE DYNAMIC CHARM TO ITS NATURE

The Danube, with its tributaries, creates a unique natural ambience, with the outskirts abundant in cultural points of interest. Navigation by the river will be more exciting if you decide to visit the preserves and nature parks situated on its banks.

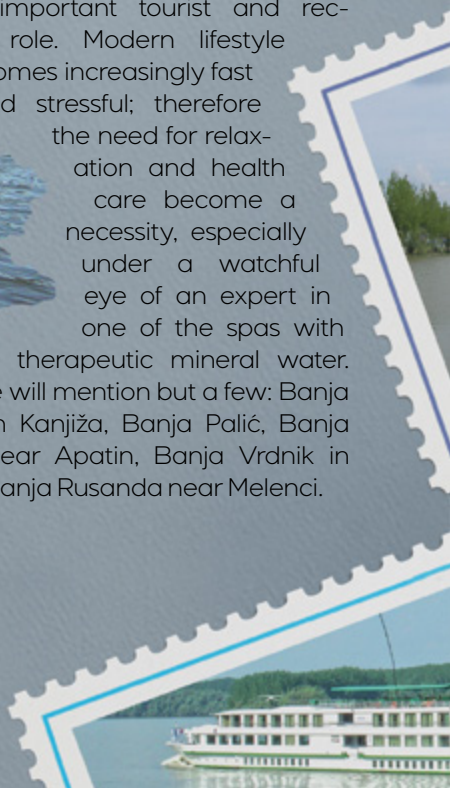

Tisa is a quiet and elegant meandering river, where one can find relief from the summer heat, or simply enjoy in the colours of the nature. In the early summer days, a unique swarming of Tisa mayfly takes place (Palingenia longicauda), better known as the "Blooming of Tisa". River Sava is similar to the Danube regarding its recreational potential. This river, situated on the south of Srem, is abundant in recreational and nautical activities. Its cut off meander with immediate environment is protected as a Special Nature Reserve „Obeska bara". Typical flatland rivers have been gaining more significant roles in the tourist offer - Begej, Tamiš, Krivaja, Jegrička, Bosut.

Well-known, but also secluded beaches on the Danube, Tisa and Sava rivers, are excellent spots for recreational and sport activities. Should one wish to include entertainment and good company in these activities, then beach Štrand in Novi Sad is the right place for you. The story on wealth of water becomes complete with lakes. On the north of Bačka is situated lake Palić with tradition that goes back for more than 150 years. Not far from Bela Crkva are located Belocrkvanska jezera (lakes), favourite recreational location of the residents. Lake Zobnatica, situated next to the nature park of the same name, plays an important tourist and recreational role. Modern lifestyle becomes increasingly fast and stressful; therefore the need for relaxation and health care become a necessity, especially under a watchful eye of an expert in one of the spas with therapeutic mineral water. We will mention but a few: Banja Kanjiža in Kanjiža, Banja Palić, Banja Junaković near Apatin, Banja Vrdnik in Vrdnik and Banja Rusanda near Melenci.

MILLENNIUMS OF CULTURAL SYMBOLS

IN THIS PART OF EUROPE, Vojvodina TREASURES CULTURAL HERITAGE OF SPECIAL IMPORTANCE FOR TRAVEL ITINERARY. Archaeological findings from the '80-ies of the XX century astonished the worldwide audience – in the vicinity of the Danube (Donja Branjevina site), not far away from the village of Deronje, archaeologists excavated, after millenniums of darkness, and brought to the light, the statuette of the Red haired goddess. This masterpiece by the early Danube region farmers reflects their dedication to the fertility cult. The statuette is kept in the National Museum in Belgrade. Profile of archaeological locations is complete with the heritage and objects from the Roman period. They are concentrated in the former settlement of Sirmium – one of the four prefectures of the Roman Empire – Sremska Mitrovica of today. Even ten emperors were born either in Sirmium or its vicinity. Meander of the river Mostonga still guards the fortress in Bač – the most important monument of medieval history in the southern parts of the Pannonian plain. Most famous fortress in Vojvodina is in Novi Sad.

Petrovaradinska tvrđava is one of the significant symbols of culture in this part of Europe. Due to its size and presence of multitude of structures within it represents a masterpiece among fortified edifices. Enrich your sightseeing tour with a visit to one of the institutions of culture among which are the City Museum of Novi Sad and numerous art galleries. At the end do not forget to visit "Podgrađe" (Downtown part of the fortress). Remnants of a city of Vršac fortification that stands as the most remarkable monument in Banat is certainly Vršačka kula built in XIV century. Centuries old town of Sremski Karlovci is situated on the contact point of Fruška gora slopes and the Danube banks. This small baroque town represents the most important site regarding Serbian culture and spirituality in the former Austro-Hungarian Empire. Focus your attention on Patrijaršijski dvor / the Residence of the Patriarch /, Building of the Magistrate (Town Hall) from where Serbian Vojvodina was proclaimed in 1848, Karlovačka gimnazija /First Serbian Grammar school/ and picturesque churches of Sremski Karlovci. Kapela mira / Chapel of Peace/ is a reminder of signing of the Peace treaty in 1699 between Austria and its allies on one side and Turkey on the other.

LIGHTHOUSES OF SPIRITUALITY

Orthodox, Roman-Catholic, Evangelistic, Greek Orthodox... Serbian, German, Hungarian, Slovakian, Šokac, Romanian, Ruthen...

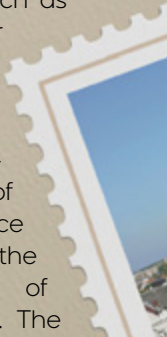

Vojvodina IS A ROCKING CRADLE OF MANY NATIONALITIES, THEREFORE A CRADLE OF DIFFERENT CHURCHES. THESE VERY DIFFERENCES TEACH US THAT WE ARE ALL CHILDREN OF ONE MOTHER – HUMANKIND

Thick forests of Fruška gora are only out topped by the bell towers of orthodox monasteries. These monasteries were built from medieval times with the role of lighthouses in the first orthodox colonies northern of rivers Sava and Danube. Out of the original 35 monasteries recorded in XVI and XVII centuries, in the wider zone of Fruška gora, only 15 have remained (Beočin, Velika Remeta, Vrdnik–Ravanica, Grgeteg, Divša, Novi Jazak, Krušedol, Kuveždin, Mala Remeta, Novo Hopovo, Petkovica, Privina Glava, Rakovac, Staro Hopovo and Šišatovac). Fruška gora monasteries are an unavoidable attraction during a visit to the mountain due to their historical, artistic and scenic values. Two other monasteries worthwhile mentioning are Bođani, near Bač, built in the Baroque style, with impressive iconostasis by Hristifor Žefarović, and Mesić monastery, located at the foot of Vršačke planine.

Spirituality of Roman Catholic tradition in the history of Vojvodina can be experienced in one of the convents. Complex of the Franciscan monastery at Bač dates back from XII century. In conformity with its past, especially prominent details of Gothic, Baroque and those from the times of the Ottoman Empire rule. Franciscan monastery in Subotica shelters remains of the old Fortress of Subotica, and as such has become an inseparable part of the town history. When in an Orthodox Church, carefully view and research paintings by the Serbian Baroque artists such as Teodor Kračun, Jakov Orfelin or Teodor Ilić Češljar. Ask a local priest in one of the catholic churches to hear the impressive sounds of the organs, since they also form the inevitable part of cultural heritage. The tradition and spirituality of the Jewish community can be experienced in the Synagogues in Novi Sad and Subotica. They were both erected at the beginning of XX century, and represent magnificent examples of the Secession architecture.

RURAL WEALTH OF THE PLAIN

RESIDENTS OF THE Vojvodina PLAIN LIVING IN VILLAGES HAVE BEEN THE MAIN FORCE OF DEVELOPMENT FOR CENTURIES.

Their mentality, attitude and persistence have been patiently moulding the social scenery of the plain. Multiculturalism in Vojvodina is emphasized today as its major trademark. There is almost no other place in Europe where one could come across so many different cultures and nationalities. This unique heritage can be experienced in one of the ethno-houses, or by spending time in a rural household. Granges offer a specific experience of traditional lifestyle in the plain. These lonely houses amidst endless fields of grain preserve rural tradition of Vojvodina and rise to the level of symbols.

There are more granges that gain new life embodied in the tourist development. Nicely decorated rooms, some still furnished with Alte Deutsche pieces of furniture, clearly reaffirm the mentality of the generations of local farmers. Families pay visits to granges more often. Children can safely play there and learn about life in the countryside.

If you happen to be a gastronome, and are looking for splendid tastes of the local cuisine, then villages are the right place for you. This cuisine was created by diversity of cultures where during one meal can be tasted influences of Hungarian, German, and Slovakian, Šokac or Serbian cooking.

ROMANTIC CHARM OF THE PAST CENTURIES

DEVELOPING IN THE PAST CENTURIES, TOWNS IN Vojvodina HAVE GROWN INTO HARMONIOUS URBAN UNITS

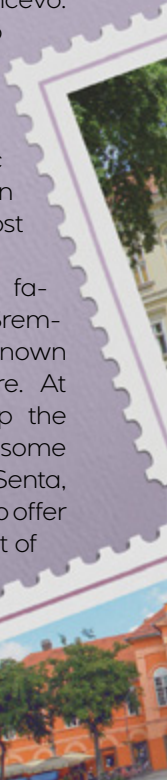

Nicely arranged streets, parks, green avenues, colourful architectural styles uncover a completely new and different image of Vojvodina. On the Danube banks, at the foothill of Fruška gora, the city of Novi Sad has been growing for centuries. If you cross the river and climb to Petrovaradin fortress, you will have one of the nicest views of the city and the surrounding plain. From the river banks, through the protected area of Dunavski Park, one can quickly reach the old town core. In that sense, Zmaj Jovina and Dunavska streets stand above the rest. In the end, make sure that you write down in your travel journal that this is the city where ingenious Albert Einstein once used to live. Elegant Subotica is dressed entirely in Secession attire. Thankful residents of Subotica built a monument to the worthy architects Marcell Komor and Dezső Jakab.

Tour of Sombor can be started from Fijaker plac where one can still hire an old cab for sightseeing of this old and graceful town. Zrenjanin is the largest town in Banat, inseparably connected to the river Begej. Use the opportunity to take a picture in front of the Town Hall, since it is one of the most beautiful Baroque buildings in Vojvodina. Travelling to the south will take traveller to Pančevo and Vršac. Numerous cultural monuments testify to the interesting history of Pančevo. Uspenska crkva /church / with two bell towers stands out as a special point of interest. Rich architectural heritage of Vršac puts this town among the most beautiful ones.

Apart from the famous Sirmium, Sremska Mitrovica is also known for it Baroque architecture. At this point, however, do not stop the sightseeing of urban heritage, since some smaller towns (Kikinda, Ruma, Senta, Apatin), also have a lot to offer regarding development of urban tourism.

ANCIENT TRADITION OF WINEMAKING

GRAPE VINE HAS LIVED IN A LOVING RELATIONSHIP WITH Vojvodina FOR ALMOST TWO MILLENNIA

This story began in year 276 when Roman Emperor Probus planted the first vines on the Glavica hill near Šuljam settlement. Vojvodina is divided into three vineyard regions: Srem with Fruška gora vineyards, Subotica – Horgoš region, with Palić and Horgoš vineyards and Banat, with two sub regions – Južni Banat (Vršac, Bela Crkva and Deliblato vine-yards) and Severni Banat (Banat – Potisje and Kikinda vineyards). Fruška gora vineyards have developed on the fertile slopes of this mountain. Jewel of this region represents vineyards of Sremski Karlovci, and vine produced here has been decanted all around Europe. Glory of Sremski Karlovci was brought about due to two special vines: Bermet, where more than 20 herbs and spice are blended in, and Ausbruh, a dessert vine squeezed from raisins - the legend has it that it was on the vine list on the "Titanic".

We recommend visit to Sremski Karlovci during the famous Wine Festival in October. Vine tradition of Subotica – Horgoš region is centuries old. Sandy soil, mild climate and good quality vines result in very drinkable products, popularly called - Sand Wines. There are numerous festivals in honouring vine: Grape picking days at Palić and Hajdukovo, Sveti Vince. Vršac vineyards spread over sunny slopes of the Vršac Mountains, to the south of Banat. Village of Gudurica is located at the foot of the mountain, one of the currently more important centres of wine tourism in Vojvodina. Banat – Potisje region with Čoka is particularly good for winegrowing.

Industrial development dates back to the end of XIX century, when Lederer family bought an estate with the vineyards of today. Wine tourism is related in this area to aristocracy but also the mocking and teasing charm of the past times. In the legendary cask with the volume of 67,000 litres, card games, accompanied by the Gypsy music, would last for days.

UNIQUE DIVERSITY OF EVENTS

Vojvodina REPRESENTS A UNIQUE WEALTH OF DIFFERENT CULTURES WHICH REFLECTS IN THE MULTITUDE OF EVENTS AND FESTIVALS

Most of the events are dedicated to celebration of the fruits of agriculture – food, vine and cultural motives. International Agricultural Fair began in Novi Sad in 1931, and it stands as the largest fair event in Serbia, and one of the largest in Europe, in the field of agriculture. For a whole decade, during the first half of July, at one of the most representative spaces regarding history and scenery – the Petrovaradin fortress – EXIT Festival has been taking place. It was founded as support to the popular musical culture, and it sends out almost every year an important message related to the current social problems to the young people.

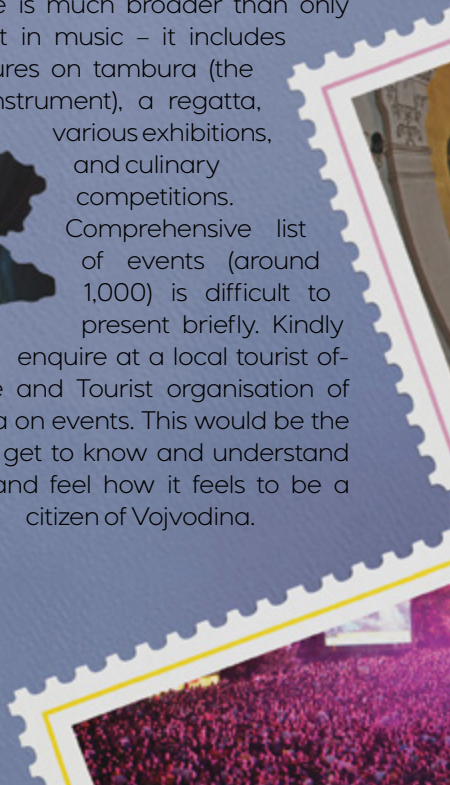

Many famous musicians have been guests at the festival so far. To name but a few: Billy Idol, David Morales, Franz Ferdinand, Garbage, Goldfrapp, Kosheen.

Tamburica Fest has a completely different approach. Tamburitza music is traditional in Vojvodina, and its people nourished it for centuries, regardless of their nationality, religion or origin. This festival began in 2008 and attracts around 100,000 people. Festival programme is much broader than only enjoyment in music – it includes lectures on tambura (the instrument), a regatta, various exhibitions, and culinary competitions.

Comprehensive list of events (around 1,000) is difficult to present briefly. Kindly enquire at a local tourist office and Tourist organisation of Vojvodina on events. This would be the best way to get to know and understand the culture and feel how it feels to be a citizen of Vojvodina.
